SENIOR HONORS ANNOUNCED TODAY

Miss Annabel Acker is Named
as Valedictorian

Second Honor Falls To Mr. Bell
Nichols Who Resigned as Spade Orator.

THE CLASSES ELECT SPEAKERS

Valedictorian—Miss Annabel
Acker.
Salutatorian—Mr. Bell Nichols.

Spade Orator—Mr. Brent
James, senior.
To Receive Spade—Mr. Edwin Randle, junior.

Honors for the senior class were announced by Principal George Payne of the High school today, Miss Annabel Acker daughter of Mrs.
Hannah Acker, being chosen valedictorian, and Mr. Be' Nichols, salutatorian. The names were read at chapel this morning and were received with acclaim. The intense rivalry between these two students had awakened great interest in the selection, and they were so close
that each had adherents among the student body.

Mr. Nichols had been elected to receive the spade from the hands of the class of '06 last year, but in consequence of his new honors, he resigned and Mr. Brent James was elected to hold the spade and deliver
it to the junior class on class night,
June 5.

The junior class met at noon and elected Edwin Randle to receive and hold the spade for the class.

MR. FRANK DIUGUID.

Well Known Citizen of Murray Dies
of Heart Trouble.

at his home in that place Saturday
from heart trouble. The funeral took place in Murray yesterday afternoon.
Mr. Diuguid was known in Paducah
where he has relatives and friends.
He was a son of the late W. H. Di-

BROOKPORT FIRE BURNS COTTAGES

Brookport, Ill., April 22. (Special.)
Fire, originating, it is believed,
from a defective flue, in the residence
of Thomas Johnson, in Johnson's addition across the creek from Brook-
port, destroyed Johnson's cottage
and the cottages of George Metcalf
and Mr. Askew, adjoining. The loss on all the buildings and contents is probably $5,000. The Johnson family was away from home when the fire broke out about 8 o'clock. The other families saved little. It was impossible for the fire department to do anything.

BIG EXCURSION.

Nearly Five Hundred People Come
From St. Louis.

There were four hundred and thirty-
five visitors in Paducah yesterday brought from St. Louis and way stations in Illinois. An excursion was run into Paducah over the Illinois Central via Brookport, arriving at 9 o'clock. There were 435 paid fares
and it was necessary for the switch engine to make two trips to the transfer boat to bring them all into the city. Most of the visitors left the train at Sixth and Campbell streets,
but two car loads were discharged at the Union station. The excursion left at 5:30 Sunday afternoon.

A WOULD-BE ASSASSIN
SHOOT AT POLICEMEN

An unknown man shot at Rounds-
man Emil Gourieux and Patrolmen
Hill and Alexander Sunday morning
at 3 o'clock near the Cohankus manufacturing company, Eighth and Burnett streets. The shots were fired from behind, and fortunately went wild. The policemen gave chase but were outstripped.

WEATHER FORECAST.

SHOWERS tonight and probably Tuesday. Highest temperature yesterday, 60; lowest today, 40.

CHILI IN PANIC.

Valparaiso, April 22.—A panic
in southern Chili was caused by the eruption of the volcano increasing. Residents in many portions of the country are fleeing for their lives. Several earthquake shocks felt as far northwest as Santiago have added
to the terrors of the people.
Forest fires started by hot ashes
and cinders are still burning.
Thousands of acres are burned
over, cattle destroyed, many farm houses destroyed.

SITUATION DESPERATE.

Pernie, B. C., April 22.—A conference will be held Tuesday
to effect if possible a settlement of the miners' strike. Telegrams from the east, urging President Sherman's arrest only served to infuriate the miners.
If the men fail to return to work
it will force an abandonment of railway traffic, although the Canadian Pacific is confiscating
all the coal in sight.

DIAMOND THEFT.

Salt Lake, April 22.—Diamonds valued at from $12,000 to $15,000 were stolen early today by burglars who blew the safe of John Daynes & Son, jewelers.

RECTOR SHOT.

Tambov, April 22.—Father
Simpson, rector of the Ecclesiastical Seminary here, was shot
and seriously wounded today.
The seminary recently was closed as the result of political disorder. It is thought the
would-be assassin is an ex-student.

DEADLY CIGARETTE.

Chihuahua, Mexico, April 22.—
An explosion, attributed to a lighted cigarette, destroyed La Sultana fire works factory today
causing property loss of $200,- 000, and fatally injuring two employees.

ELECTROCUTED.

Rochester, N. Y., April 22.—
John Yerger, the oldest engineer
on the Erie road, was electrocuted today at Erie Station,
when his head came in contact with a high-current cable that is to supply electricity for the Rochester division of the Erie,
when its plant is complete.
The wire carried 11,000 volts.
Yerger was in the employ of the road 55 years.

DEMAND RANSOM.

Knoxville, Tenn., April 22.— Sevierville, a former center of whitecap operations, is excited
over an unsigned letter received by Dr. Walker. The letter threatens if Walker does not put up $20,000 he will be taken to the mountains of Kentucky
and held for ransom.

DEGENERATE DIES.

New York, April 22.—Benedict Gimbell, the millionaire merchant who cut his throat and wrist, with jagged pieces of a water pitcher in a Hoboken hotel Friday, after being arrested on the charge of assaulting a 16-year-old boy, died this morning in the hospital here.

WANT A BOY.

Madrid, April 22.—The stork is hovering over the Spanish royal palace. Professor Guitterez, chief medical attendant on Queen Victoria, expects the arrival of the heir to the Spanish
throne before the week is over.
All Spain is anxiously awaiting word from the palace to know whether it is a boy.

BOLD BURGLARY SUNDAY EVENING

Residence of Capt. James Koger Ransacked

Diamond and Necklace Are Booty
of Thief, Who Overlooks Other Valuables.

POLICE WORKING ON CLEWS

Rapidity of action, skill and foresight characterized the burglary of Captain James Koger's residence Sunday afternoon between 4 and 5
o'clock, when a diamond stud, worth $100, the property of Dr. Vernon Blythe, and a gold necklace, property of Mrs. Koger, were stolen. A watch, and other jewelry were missed in the hurried work of the burglar.

Entrance was effected through the cellar door opening into the back yard. It was unlocked. A panel in the door, leading down into the cellar from the first floor of the house,
was cut out with a knife and the door was unlocked, admitting the burglar to the house.

Every room in the large house
was ransacked the drawers of children's, bureaus and closet doors being left open as they were searched.
The hurried work of the burglar is illustrated by his opening every drawer in a chiffonier in one room, except one which was locked. In this drawer which he did not take time to open, were more valuable jewelry than he succeeded in finding.
A watch under some handkerchiefs
in a drawer which was hurriedly
searched, was missed by the burglar.

No attempt was made to take anything other than which could be carried concealed on the person, as the egress from the house had to be accomplished in the full view of the rear windows of houses on the opposite square, and of the houses on either side.

The burglary evidently was carefully planned and timed. At 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, all the members of the family, who were at home, left for drives in the carriages, which had been standing at the front door
for several minutes. At 5 o'clock they returned to find the house from top to bottom, in confusion. None of the neighbors had seen any person around the house.

It is believed that the burglary
was accomplished by two persons, one who did the work, and the other who kept a lookout. From the fact that it took place in the short interval between the time they left and returned, and from the way the house was searched, it seems that somebody familiar with the affairs of the family
and house arrangement, committed the burglary. They have experienced the same difficulty as other families
in keeping a servant for any length of time in the last few months, having had a dozen or more. The case is in the hands of detectives who are working or several well-defined clues.

MARSE HENRY OUT FOR GOV. HUGHES

New York, April 22.—Colonel Henry Watterson, editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, and recognized as a political sage of the country south of the Mason and Dixon line, reached New York today
on the steamship Amerika. Mr. Watterson prophesies that Governor Hughes of New York, will be the next president of the United States.

English Hare Aground.

London, April 22.—A report from Tokio says the steamer English Hare is ashore off the Japanese coast. She went aground in attempting to avoid a collision with another vessel.

BIG WAR CLOUD IS OVER EUROPE

Berlin, April 22.—The war cloud is showing itself over Europe as the result of the brilliant coup of Emperor William in establishing the German Orient bank in Berlin, as the financial backer of the new constitutional movement in Persia. England has planned to make herself the financial prop of the shah.

Drank Poison, Took Blind Baggage, And Died On Reaching City of Fulton

James Gilbert, Murray Youth Writes Letter to His Brother and Then Kills Himself on Account Ill Health

WELL KNOWN MURRAY FAMILY.

Fulton, Ky., April 22. (Special.)
After writing a letter to his brother Noah Gilbert, and addressing it to his home at Murray, James Gilbert, 19 years old, son of William Gilbert
the well known tobacco dealer of Murray, swallowed a half ounce of Bromidia at Memphis yesterday afternoon. Then, in the delirium produced by the drug, he climbed on a blind baggage of the Fulton train.
He was supposed to be drunk, and
the crew, discovering him, put him
in a coach, where he broke windows and behaved so wildly he was put off at Fulton, dying here at 1:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon. His brother, Noah Gilbert, who had been informed of the suicide by the letter,
which directed him to go to Memphis for the body, of the writer, came to Fulton and took the body to Murray last night. Young Gilbert
had been in ill health a long time,
and had been more or less despondent since the death of his mother at Denver, Col., last fall. He was in Huntington, Tenn., and his father was sending him to Denver for his health. It was evident he intended dying in Memphis, when he wrote
the letter. The Gilbert family is one of the best known in Calloway county, where the youth had many friends.

HOSTILITIES MAY SOON BE RESUMED

Washington, D. C., April 22.—
Fears are expressed of a renewal of hostilities in Central America. Advices were received today to the effect that the conference between Nicaraguan and Salvadoran ministers at Amapala is deadlocked. The trouble seems to be a failure to agree on details, regarding the maintenance of order on the boundary.

PADUCAH BOYS WIN.

Come Home With Scalp of Metropolis Hanging to Belt.

In a fast game of baseball Saturday, the Paducah High school team
defeated the Metropolis High school

FOUR PEOPLE ARE SERIOUSLY HURT

Frightened Horse Throws
Them Into Road

One Woman and One Child Knocked Unconscious By Concussion
of Brain.

ACCIDENT ON BENTON ROAD

INJURED.

Mrs. Ruth McClure—Concussion,
Serious.
Houser Infant—Head cut, serious.

Mrs. Lillian Houser—Bruised.
Little McClure Boy—Bruised.

Four were injured, two badly, in a runaway on the Benton road five miles from Paducah near the farm of Mrs. Polk Brooks Sunday afternoon. Two mothers with small children were driving when the horse frightened and became unmanageable, throwing the quartette out. It was necessary to carry the entire party home in vehicles, and three
are confined to their beds this morning.

Mrs. Lillian Houser and her 16-months-old son, and Mrs. Ruth Mc-Clure, and her five-year-old son, residing on the Benton road, were driving home about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The horse, ordinarily a gentle one, began to rear and plunge at paper or some other obstacle in the road. The women, reduced to a state of helplessness by fright, sat in the buggy unable to control the animal. Suddenly he sprang to one side and cramping the front wheel under the buggy bed
caused the occupants to be precipitated to the ground. The horse plunged madly down the road.

Several who saw the accident ran to the rescue. Mrs. McClure was unconscious from concussion. Her head had been badly injured and the infant of Mrs. Houser lay near her with an ugly wound in the head. The baby too was unconscious. Mrs. Houser was bruised but managed to arise
and run to her infant. The McClure boy was bruised and not badly injured. His fright caused him to remain motionless.

Dr. J. W. Pendley was summoned
from the city and conveyed the injured to their homes where he dressed the wounds. All but the five-year-old son are confined today.

COLONEL BOB NOBLE RAISES
ALFALFA ON HIS FARM

Colonel Bob Noble is raising alfalfa on his farm four miles from Paducah on the Cairo road. He sowed
the seed last August and the ten acres were under water for four or five weeks at a stretch. The first shoots appeared in February, and the hay has grown 24 inches since. The planting of alfalfa was an experiment, which Colonel Noble believes will prove successful.

LITTLE GIRL BREAKS ARM.
BY FALLING FROM PORCH.

Mary, the two-year-old daughter of Mrs. Bettie Hagerdorn, residing two miles from Paducah on the Bland
ville road, while playing Sunday morning about 10 o'clock, fell from
the porch and fractured her left arm between the elbow and wrist. She was brought to Paducah by her mother and the fracture was reduced by Dr. J. W. Pendley.

FRAUD IS ALLEGED IN BENTON MERCANTILE CO.

Attorney Cecil Reed has been appointed receiver for the Benton Mercantile company. This action is the result of a suit filed by C. C. Rose and other stockholders. The liabilities amount to $5,500 and the assets to $2,500 and the allegations are that A. E. Stow, president of the firm, practiced fraud in organizing the company.

LORD BARRINGTON MUST PAY PENALTY OF CRIME.

Washington, D. C., April 22.—
"Lord Barrington," sentenced to death at St. Louis, must die. The supreme court of the United States
today dismissed his writ of error
whereby he sought to have the sentence of death reviewed. Barrington was convicted of the murder of a Kentucky horseman named Mc-Mann.

BOILER MAKERS WISH INCREASE

Six Cents More on the Hour
For Eight Hour Day is Demand of Paducah Illinois
Central Shops

CONFERRING WITH OFFICIALS.

Illinois Central boiler makers, one of the strongest and most important unions on the system, will ask for an increase this year of six cents the hour. At present they are receiving 34 cents an hour. They will ask for 40 cents.

Mr. E. J. Barrett, who was elected at a recent meeting of the local branch as delegate from Paducah shops, will leave on April 24 to be present at a general conference of union boiler makers and Illinois Central officials.

The boiler makers two years ago
caused a hitch in operations through a delay in the road signing up a new scale for an increase. Boiler makers are absolutely necessary. They are required more frequently than ma-chinalists in the round houses where defects to flues prevent an engine
from going out unless repaired.

GRAIN MARKET.

Cincinnati, April 22.—Wheat, 79½; corn, 51; oats, 44½.

tack on soldiers and police officers, killing one officer and two soldiers. All Terrorists escaped.

NO PROHIBITION FOR OWENSBORO

Capital of Daviess Votes Down
Proposition While County Goes Other Way--Several Towns Do Likewise

ELECTION PASSED QUIETLY.

Owensboro, Ky., April 22.—After a combat unequalled for intensity in the Bluegrass commonwealth, the citizens of Owensboro voted for the retention of 46 saloons in the county seat of Daviess. The wets in Owensboro received a majority of 442
votes. There was a total of 3,486 votes cast in the election, it being one of the largest votes ever polled
in Owensboro.

The result shows a majority for
the "drys" of 1,803 in the county precincts outside of Owensboro with only three precincts in the county
wet: Oakford, Stanley and Lowerton
No. 1. The majority for the "wets" in the city precincts, in the vote on the county as a unit, is about 300, leaving a majority of about 1,500 in the city and country for the "drys." The wet majority in the city considering the city as a unit, is 430.

Dick Brahic Goes South.

Dick Brahic's terms were today
accepted by telegram and a ticket was sent from Charleston, S. C., in the South Atlantic league. He is in Gerrin, Ill. and will leave at once for Charleston. Brahic is a Paducah boy and was the premier pitcher in the Paducah Kitty league team last season.

Women Avoid Operations

When a woman suffering from female trouble is told that an operation is necessary, it, of course, frightens her.

The very thought of the hospital, the operating table and the knife strikes terror to her heart.

It is quite true that these troubles may reach a stage where an operation is the only resource, but a great many women have been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after an operation has been decided upon as the only cure.

The strongest and most grateful statements possible to make come from women who by taking

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

made from native roots and herbs, have escaped serious operations, as evidenced by Miss Rose Moore's case, of 307 W. 36th St., N. Y. She writes: "Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured me of the very worst form of female trouble and I wish to express to you my deepest gratitude. I suffered intensely for two years so that I was unable to attend to my duties and was a burden to my family. I doctored and doctored with only temporary relief and constantly objecting to an operation which I was advised to undergo. I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; it cured me of the terrible trouble and I am now in better health than I have been for many years."

This and other such cases should encourage every woman to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before she submits to an operation.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. From the symptoms given, the trouble may be located and the quickest and surest way of recovery advised.

River traffic was unusually heavy for Sunday, the arrivals and departures running above a dozen counting the towboats. Business is not as heavy now as it was a few weeks back, but may be attributed to the fact that in the first flush of spring, the traveling men so loaded up the merchants that they are now working off the stocks. The river fell 1.2 in the last 48 hours, bringing the stage down to 16.6. On April 22 last year, the stage was 27.4.

As if corroborating the river saying that accidents never come singly, the Clyde arrived yesterday from the Tennessee river with a broken cylinder. Only a day or so ago the Joe Fowler broke a shaft. The Clyde "ran through herself" near Waterloo and immediately unloaded, returning to this city light. It is thought this morning that the break is not bad and that it can be patched and the boat keep running until a new cylinder is made. If not, the Savannah will be brought from St. Louis to run in the Clyde's trade.

A broken shaft requiring 30 days to be replaced, the Chester, from St. Louis, will arrive today or tomorrow to run in the Joe Fowler's trade until the break is mended at Evansville. The Chester is a long boat, though not so wide and as high as the Memphis or Clyde.

Two screw propeller tugs will be on the ways today for repairs. The A. J. Beardsley, of the West Kentucky Coal company's fleet, at Memphis, arrived Saturday and is now on the ways. The Archibald, an Illinois Central tug at Brookport, will arrive today to go on the ways. The Beardsley looks like a bull dog from her short length and deep draft.

This week will see two excursions run on the river. The Island Queen

AN OFFER

To the Weak and Weary Women of Paducah.

"There are hundreds of women in this vicinity who are dragging themselves through life in pain and misery, without vitality, strength or health," said our local druggist, Mr. W. B. McPherson. "They get no happiness out of life and are just in a condition to be attacked by almost any disease. They need a vitality-making and strength-creating tonic."

"Now at our expense, we want to ask every such woman to try our cod liver preparation, Vinol, which contains, beside tonic iron, the medicinal elements of cod liver oil, but no oil or grease. It is delicious to take, creates a healthy appetite, makes pure, rich, red blood, and gives strength and vigor to every organ of the body better than any medicine we have ever sold in our store, and when a woman is in this condition it makes life worth living."

"When we say 'at our expense' we mean that if the medicine you buy from us and pay for does not benefit you, we will refund every cent of it cheerfully, and thus you try it at our expense." W. B. McPherson, Druggist.

Note—While we are sole agents for Vinol in Paducah, it is now for sale at the leading drug store in nearly every town and city in the country. Look for the Vinol agency in your town.

will arrive Thursday or Friday to take out the Central Labor Union excursion, and the J. S. will take out another excursion Sunday for the same union.

The Joe Wheeler arrived Sunday morning from Chattanooga with a heavy trip of medicine and other freight and today is at Joppa unloading. The Wheeler will leave Tuesday at noon for Chattanooga.

The Buttrif will arrive Wednesday from Nashville and will leave the same day for Clarksville, having reversed the order of trips to these two points. All provided the rousters are willing to have the boat leave.

The City of Safford arrived yesterday and left after a few hours' stop, for the Tennessee river.

The Russell Lord arrived from the Tennessee river Sunday and has gone to St. Louis with a tow of ties for the Ayer-Lord Tie company.

The Charles Turner has gone to the Cumberland river after ties. The Vincennes is in from the Tennessee river with ties.

The Henrietta returned yesterday from Joppa from unloading a tow.

The John Hopkins arrived from Evansville early Sunday morning and left at 7 o'clock for the same point.

The Georgia Lee was in early Saturday from Cincinnati going down for Memphis.

THEATRICAL NOTES

Look Out for Moths

But don't use the old-fashioned moth balls, with their offensive odor.

White Tar Moth Powder, 25c is more effective, has very little odor, and, being a powder, goes much farther.

White Tar Preserving Camphor, 25 Cents is a perfect disinfectant as well as a moth destroyer. It's a fine, clean white powder and this large box will last for months.

And while you are about the work of ousting insects, get a can of Rudisch's Bug Destroyer and exterminate all the bed bugs. It kills them off absolutely, as well as their broods.

Tonight the Blunkall-Atwood company begin a week's engagement in a repertoire of standard comedies and dramas at the Kentucky.

Mr. Ervin Blunkall, late leading man of various stock companies on the Pacific coast, and Miss Lydian Atwood, formerly leading lady of the Dewey theater, Oakland, Cal., are at the head of this company of players.

The opening play will be the "Tide of Life," a comedy drama in four acts, dealing with life in the Pennsylvania coal mines and New York City. The play is on the sensational order but thoroughly consistent and not improbable as many melodramas are.

"The Bushranger," an English society drama, will be the bill for Tuesday evening. Wednesday the great sensational play "Saphro" will be the bill with Miss Atwood as Fanny Le Grand. On Thursday evening the comedy "The Plunger" will be the attraction. "Young Mrs. Winthrop" will be seen on Friday and "East Lynne," the ladies' favorite, Saturday matinee. The company will close the engagement Saturday evening, producing the well known temperance drama "Ten Nights in a Barroom."

Irish whisky is drunk in Scotland and Scotch whisky in Dublin.

UNDER TREE

BOY IS CAUGHT AND PINIONED TO THE GROUND.

Mrs. Mary Mallory Dies at Mayfield—New Lumber Company Incorporated in Graves County.

Mayfield, April 22.—The six-year-old son of B. A. Wray, a well known and respected farmer of the Mt. Pleasant church neighborhood, met death on Thursday of last week. The father, Mr. Wray, was felling a large tree for the purpose of getting saw-log cuts. The boy and his sister were standing nearby, in what was thought an opposite direction from that the tree would fall. Seeing the tree inclining to the path in line with the children the father frantically cried out to them to get out of the way. The little girl managed to get out of the way but before the boy had taken but a few steps the massive bulk of the falling tree struck him and buried his body in the ground underneath.

Mrs. Mary Mallory, aged 58 years, died at her home in west Mayfield, Friday. She was born in Tennessee, near old McMinnville, and was married about 35 years ago to William Mallory.

Articles of incorporation for the Mayfield Lumber company were filed Saturday, composed of the following stockholders: O. S. Wagner, W. A. Usher, S. R. Douthitt and A. L. Brand. The capital stock is $30,000, divided into 300 shares at $100 each. The four stockholders own an equal amount of stock of 75 shares each.

Attorney Pete Seay was able to ride down to his office Saturday afternoon after being laid up at his home for the past week with a fractured rib caused by being injured on a train.

WEEK'S EVENTS.

The forecast for prominent events for the week follows:

The Jamestown exposition, commemorating the 300th anniversary of the first English settlement in America, will open at Norfolk, Va., on Friday, with President Roosevelt as the guest of honor. The exposition will continue until November 30.

A commission appointed under the immigration act to investigate immigration in Washington, it is likely that before the commission completes its work it will have visited many of the countries of Europe for the study of the immigration of aliens. The findings will be submitted to congress.

The interstate commerce commission will give hearings at Columbus, Ohio; Memphis, Tenn., and Louisville, Ky., this week on alleged discrimination against certain coal operators along the lines of the defendant companies.

The economic committee which acts in an advisory capacity to the German government in tariff matters has been called to meet on April 22 to discuss the German-American tariff relations. The temporary arrangement recently negotiated at Washington by Secretary Root and Baron Speck Von Sternburg, the German ambassador, for an extension of the most favored nation treaty will be laid before the committee.

"Your wife used to sing and play a great deal. I have not heard her lately." "Since we have had children she has had no time." "Ah, children are such a blessing!"—Flegende Blaetter.

Only a Poker. An American tourist on a visit to Glasgow, on emerging from the railway station, was accosted by a lad with a familiar shout of "Carry your bag, sir?" The gentlemen handed the boy the bag and requested to be shown through Glasgow. Crossing George square, they came opposite Sir Walter Scott's monument, and the boy said proudly: "That is one of the largest monuments in Scotland."

"Oh," said the Yankee, with an air of indifference, "we have three-penny cigars as big as that in America." They got a tramcar going east, and just as they alighted at the terminus it—"Smart Set."

a long circular piece of iron on a lorry drawn by twelve horses came up the street. The American, in surprise, asked what that was for. The boy, remembering what the Yankee had said about the cigars, and with a resolve to be even with him, replied: "Oh, a new hotel has just been built in the Trongate, and that is the kitchen poker."

First Reporter—"I see by the last edition that our old schoolmate, Jones, has committed suicide." Second Reporter—"Hurry down and you may be in time to prevent his doing just as they alighted at the terminus it."

Ahead in Automobiles.

America now leads the world in the manufacture, sale and use of automobiles. This is the declaration of a French expert who has been keeping a record of the automobile business. Five years ago the United States built only 314 automobiles of all classes, while at the same time France built 23,711 machines. Last year the production in the United States was 60,000 in France 55,000, in England 28,000, in Germany, 22,000, in Italy 19,000 and Belgium 12,000. In nine years in the countries named there have been manufactured, sold and used 550,000 automobiles, representing more than $1,000,000,000 of money—Savannah (Ga.) News.

FEARED RESULTS OF HOME POLICY

So Stevens Decided to Stand From Under

Stood Too Close To Hill and He Saw Roosevelt Through the Magazine's Glasses.

DEMOCRATS MIGHT OUST HIM

Washington, April 22.—Misgivings as to the future of the Republican party, and apprehension that all officials who did not swear new allegiance would be turned out if the Democrats carried the next presidential election had a part in influencing John E. Stevens to resign as chief engineer of the Panama canal. These were only two of the reasons which he wrote in a letter requesting President Roosevelt to relieve him of his great task, yet his whole attitude was such that the president cabled to this effect:

"Resignation accepted."

The gloomy political predictions of the chief engineer have not been widely known as having figured in the letter which he wrote "as man to man" to explain to the president his reasons for giving up the post. Mr. Stevens called at the white house today for the first time since his return from Panama. The length of his stay with the president indicated that it was more than a mere call of respect and that no hard feeling exists between the two.

Mr. Stevens' apprehension as to the political future seems to have sprung largely from his mistrust, as a railroad man, of the effect upon the Republican party of the railroad policies advocated by President Roosevelt. Mr. Stevens is a friend of James J. Hill, for whom he did some great pieces of railroad engineering on the Great Northern. He and Mr. Hill share certain ideas as to the Panama canal. One is that it will never be the great boon to American trade that has been predicted. Mr. Stevens said the canal should be finished on or before January 1, 1915.

Mr. Stevens is to be employed by an eastern railroad, said to be the Pennsylvania, to make a physical valuation of its property. Mr. Stevens declined today to talk about his plans. He expects to enter upon his new duties about May 1.

15 STATES IN TRUST MEETING.

Governors Agree to Send Delegates to Conference in Chicago.

New York, April 22.—Fifteen governors have accepted the invitation of the National Civic Federation to name delegates to attend the national conference on combinations and trusts in Chicago, May 28-31. The acceptances of Governors Hughes of New York, Cummins of Iowa, Folk of Missouri, Warner of Michigan, Davidson of Wisconsin, and Cutler of Utah, were received today. This conference will discuss:

"Governmental power over corporations engaged in interstate commerce; the division of power under the constitution between the nation and the state, and power concurrent in nation and state."

"How should the corporation be constructed."

"The just and practical limits of the restriction and regulation, federal and state, of combinations in transportation, production, distribution and labor."

It was announced today from the headquarters of the federation that the commission to inquire into the menace and extent of child labor had been completed and was ready to begin its work.

Out of Sight.

"Out of sight, out of mind," is an old saying which applies with special force to a sore, burn or wound that's been treated with Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It's out of sight, out of mind and out of existence. Piles too and chilblains disappear under its healing influence. Guaranteed by all druggists.

L. K. TAYLOR CANDIDATE FOR OKLAHOMA SENATE.

Attorney L. K. Taylor, formerly of this city, who is now associated with Attorney William Lynn, formerly of Murray, in Oklahoma, is the only Democratic candidate for state senator from Chickasha. He was prominent in politics in Paducah and could not keep out of the fray, even though he has lived in Oklahoma but a comparatively short time.

NEWS NOTES FROM SUNDAY PAPERS.

John Abner went on the witness stand in the trial of Bill Britton, at Lexington, and flatly contradicted every point made by John Smith, denying all connection with the Breathitt county murders, although he had written out a confession and offered it to the prosecution. He admitted coming down with Jim Hargis and eating supper with him the night before. Abner was the star witness for the defense and his testimony was a great surprise as it was thought he would give the full details of the conspiracy to murder Cockrell and the others.

THE COWARD AND HIS GUN.

Commenting on the declaration of Police Inspector Bingham, of New York, that he will search every man in the tenderloin for concealed deadly weapons, the Lexington Herald says:

We do not know under what laws the police of New York are acting nor are we certain whether it is possible under the laws of Kentucky for any officer to make an examination of the person or arrest any individual merely upon suspicion that he has a concealed weapon about him. We greatly doubt whether it is legal for this to be done, but in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred the man who carries a concealed weapon is a coward and will yield to the demands of an officer for his weapon. And if it is necessary for such methods to be pursued in New York to break up the habit it would be a most excellent thing to have them instituted in every city in America.

Prof. Zueblin in one of his recent lectures in Lexington made a suggestion which we had never before—in our own mind in a practical way—that there should be a federal license for every deadly weapon sold, that no deadly weapon should be purchased by any individual except with a federal license, so that there could be a public record of everyone who is in possession of a deadly weapon, particularly of an explosive weapon. We doubt if this can be worked out. But it is at least worth discussion. It is certainly possible for all those who sell deadly weapons to be required to keep a list of every individual who buys, and the courts ought to enforce, as the courts of New York are now enforcing, laws to punish those who carry such weapons concealed.

And there's the unwritten law—public opinion. We confidently believe there is a general and growing sentiment, that soon will put the ban of respectability on men, who go armed. There is no law can be executed in the face of popular sentiment, and until that sentiment is amalgamated with the printed statutes and the legal precedent, of our courts, men will go armed. But some day the concealed weapon will be recognized as the insignia of the coward and the bully.

John Temple Graves arises once more behind his plate and says that if Bryan should nominate Roosevelt, or Roosevelt should nominate Bryan, their combined influence would be irresistible, because they are the two greatest men in the world. A man may sometimes tell the truth without saying anything practical, and no one can deny John Temple has an eye for the dramatic possibilities of the situation. Imagine Bryan nominating Roosevelt with a speech the equal of the one with which he nominated himself the first time. Think of Roosevelt vehemently announcing his allegiance to Bryan, the man, and exerting the forces of public opinion and patronage he so well knows how to utilize in behalf of the "Peerless One's" candidacy. Roosevelt is a million votes stronger than any other man in the United States. Bryan can swing a million votes from black to white. Of course, nothing of the sort will happen, but just think of it—the more one thinks of it, the more he wishes it could come true. We take off our hats to you, John Temple Graves. You've raised the most enjoyable subject for speculation, since the nasty Thaw trial succeeded the Japanese embroglio in popular estimation.

Engineer Stevens, of Panama canal fame, did well to get out of public office. Clearly he is unfitted for politics. He feared the result of Roosevelt's internal policy, and foresaw Democratic triumph, and became sore afraid. Had he been patted on the back and encouraged, perhaps, he would have taken heart and proceeded with his task. Democratic triumphs would not have interfered with his position. It was above politics. But he had no business speculating on the probable results of administrative policies not directly associated with his task. Especially unsatisfactory was it for him, in charge of the canal, to be sympathizing with transcontinental railroads. We count his political sagacity of a piece with his discretion.

Despite City Attorney Campbell's protest of disinterestedness, which we frankly accept as sincere, we believe that if a commission is dispatched to revise the charter of second class cities, he is the man to represent Paducah. He is acquainted with the needs of the city, with the shortcomings of the instrument, its ambiguities and misapplication to the conditions, and he has manifested a spirit of sincerity and fidelity, in contrast to partisan conduct in office, that has won for him the respect of all city officials.

Southern Democracy begins to think her constancy should be rewarded. Any debutante knows that constancy, like virtue, is its own reward, and the doubtful maid receives the compliments.

Because she grieved so over Dowle's death, a New York woman threw herself out an upstairs window. And we concede she did the proper thing under the circumstances.

It has been estimated that the late Tennessee legislature cost the state $76,000. The one before cost $72,028.42. Luxuries are becoming almost prohibitive in price.

A St. Louis thief, on being caught, remarked: "Ah, what's the use 'o working, when money's so easy?" He'd be mobbed for saying that on Wall street.

Cox men in Cincinnati are for Taft, say press reports. Such political rats indicate the condition of hulls on the sea of state.

They never need fear sin's contagion who walk its ways in charity's errands.

NEW APPARATUS PROVES ITS VALUE

Foreman Lehnhard and Crew
Equal to Emergency

Prevent Conflagration in Midst of Illinois Central North Yards
By Coolness.

DISCOVERY IS MOST TIMELY

But for the timely discovery and prompt action of Foreman John Lehnhard, Engineer Wilber and their crew on switch engine, No. 172, yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, many cars might have been burned and much loss entailed in the Illinois Central north yards. Lehnhard was in front of his engine going south. He noticed smoke in the center of a series of tracks, where several hundred loaded cars were waiting to be moved. An investigation showed a car of spokes afire. Lehnhard ran his engine into the nearest siding and with special apparatus installed on his engine successfully fought the fire down. Tin under the wooden roof saved spokes from being burned. The blaze originated from an engine spark.

Engineer John Wicks sprained his right ankle at Fulton last night and was forced to return home at 7:45 o'clock this morning. He will be disabled several weeks. Wicks on engine, No. 699, was "pulling" train No. 188, in charge of Conductor Wilkins. At Fulton he left his cab to inspect his engine. Stepping on a lump of coal his ankle turned and he was relieved at once of further duty.

SERIOUS CUTTING TAKES

PLACE IN GARDNER'S ALLEY.
Will Manuel, an Illinois Central colored brakeman, cut Little Gray, with whom he had been keeping company, Saturday night. The affair took place in Gardner's alley, between Ninth and Tenth, Boyd and Harris streets.

City Physician Harry Williamson and Dr. C. A. Isbell, colored, attended the woman. She was badly cut, one wound running from under her chin to the top of her head. Another gash was inflicted on the other side of the face, and only a small portion of the head remained untouched on top. The jugular vein was missed, and the woman has a chance for recovery. She was left at her home under the attention of friends. Jealousy is responsible for Manuel's act.

Friends of Dr. Overton Brooks will be delighted to learn of his remarkable success in Chicago. The young physician was born and reared here and graduated in June, 1906. He went into hospital work, and established an emergency hospital in the "White City." He did well in the summer but this winter abandoned it for regular practice.

Our $10 to $15 Suits

You won't find poor goods at any price at The New Store. We have cheap clothes, but they are good clothes. Some merchants you know get mixed on this point and apply poor goods to those who want cheap goods.

Our suits at $10, $12.50 and $15 are a point in our illustration. They are cheap clothes, but they are the very best values the prices will buy anywhere.

You will be very much surprised at the splendid values we give at these popular prices, and the great range of patterns and fabrics. Come in and slip on a suit or two and demonstrate it. You won't be urged to buy.

CHAMPION FORGETTER.

He Lives in Chicago—His Embarrassing Predicaments.

Horace Britt, who plays the cello in the Thomas orchestra has the reputation of being the champion forgetter of that organization, says the Chicago Record-Herald.

This is no slight distinction, for genius and memory for the commonplace things of life, such as umbrellas and bundles, are not supposed to go together, and the Thomas orchestra is long on genius.

But Mr. Britt is an artist in his forgetfulness. Forgetting to bring home a can of salmon that his wife ordered from the grocery is entirely too commonplace for him. He seems to remember that he ever had an umbrella. Now and then he does manage to leave his bow at home when he starts down for a rehearsal, and were it not for the fact that his wife jogs his memory every week he might forget to draw his salary. But in the main his forgetting is long lines removed from the common herd.

On one occasion he dressed carefully for an appearance at an exclusively social function and then appeared on the platform in dress suit, high collar, expansive shirt front and evening tie, all right, but wearing his carpet slippers. He had forgotten to put on his shoes.

On another similar occasion, when the time came for him to appear at a recital he found that he had left his cello at home.

But his piece de resistance—that's the way he would say it, for he hasn't been over here from Paris very long—occurred soon after his arrival.

He had been engaged to play at a function where he was peculiarly anxious to make a good appearance. For days he had been anticipating the event, and when the fateful evening arrived he went up to his room to make his toilet with more than usual care.

He divested himself of his old smoking jacket and hung it away carefully in the closet. Then he took off his waistcoat and did likewise. His every day trousers he folded carefully and laid away.

Here he succumbed to the force of habit. One after another he removed his other garments and put them in their accustomed places for the night. Finally he climbed into his pajamas, turned out the gas and went to bed. He was found some hours later by a member of his family, fast asleep. His golden opportunity had gone by.

The Lover.

He—When I'm in love I put my whole heart in it.
She—And often put your foot in it too.—New York World.

A kiss on the cheek may not be as cheeky as a kiss on the lips.

Fools stumble around in the dark, but the wise man carries a lantern.

HEALTH AND HAPPINESS.

"Life consists not in living, but in enjoying health."

We could all enjoy health if we conformed to Nature's simple laws. Disease is merely a result of the non-observance of those laws, either by negligence, accident or ignorance. These reasons are, as a rule, of little consequence after disease, becomes manifest and properly diagnosed. It is the nature of the treatment and the results obtained that concern you.

Nature is the ever present factor in the cure of disease. The Osteopath appreciates this fact, and uses all means that are natural, recognizing and using diet, air, water, exercise and other hygienic measures as natural assistants to scientific manipulations to secure normality to any and all structure disturbances.

I should be pleased to refer you, at any time, to Paducah people you know well who can attest to what Osteopathy has done for them in cases of rheumatism, asthma, neuralgia, nervousness, stomach, liver, and bowel troubles, eczema, sick headaches, la grippe conditions, malaria, lumbago, disturbed blood conditions.

If you are ill you owe it to yourself to investigate Osteopathy.

PEOPLE AND SOCIAL EVENTS

Cast and Chorus of "The Traveling Man" Rehearsing Every Day.

The musical mixture, "The Traveling Man" which will be produced here at the Kentucky on May 10th, is arousing much interest among the society folk and will be one of the events of the season.

It will be given jointly under the auspices of the Charity club and the Humane society and from the people connected with those two organizations and the success with which the play has been represented other places, Paducah is promised a real treat in the amateur line.

The Louisville Evening Post says of the performances in Louisville at Macauley's April 3:

"The hit of the local society and theatrical season was 'The Traveling Man' given yesterday afternoon and night at Macauley's theater, and the management had to hang out the S. R. O. sign. The Pony chorus gave a performance that would have done credit to a professional chorus, they were so well trained in their work. Mr. Woolfolk has a good plot, the lines are breezy and the songs are good examples of the popular novelities of the day."

The different committees in charge are as follows: Mrs. George C. Wallace, general manager; Mrs. Cook Husbands, assistant manager; Mrs. James Weille, chairman program committee; Miss Kathleen Whitefield, assistant; Mrs. E. M. Post, chairman chaperone committee; Mrs. Roy McKinney, chairman ticket committee; Miss Elizabeth Sinnott, treasurer.

Rehearsals are being held today at Mrs. George C. Wallace's as follows:

Girl choruses at 4 p. m.; male chorus at 7 p. m., and cast at 8 p. m.

PLUCKY RIDER

Uses Her Foot To Save Herself From Imminent Danger.

Only by kicking herself from harm's way when falling from a plunging horse did Miss Laura Oberhausen of 405 South Twenty-first street, cashier at Culley's store, escape probably fatal injuries Sunday afternoon, while horseback riding. On Clark between Nineteenth and Twentieth streets her horse became unmanageable and Miss Oberhausen realizing she was unable to control him, started to jump. Her foot caught in the stirrup and spectators turned to avoid seeing her trampled underfoot. With great presence of mind the young lady kicked herself to one side, and no sooner did she alight than she was up again and in pursuit of the liberated horse.

ADMINISTRATION FULLY ENDORSED

Significant Action of the Kenton County Convention

Fast Run is Made at Lexington To Save Life of Infant—Never a Stop.

CAR RUNS AT FULL SPEED

Covington, Ky., April 22.—A. T. Siler was the unanimous choice to succeed himself as railroad commissioner at two Republican conventions today. Both Campbell county and Kenton county will send delegates instructed for the incumbent.

In addition, each convention declared in favor of the present national administration, and Kenton county went even further. The greatest interest was in the resolutions adopted, which endorsed the present national administration, and stated that in order for the Republicans to win in the next national election they should nominate a man in full accord with the policies of the present administration and who would carry out its policies.

More significance was attached to the resolutions in that the Hon. Richard P. Ernst, chairman of the Republican state executive committee, was a member of the committee on resolutions. By some, the stand of the committee was taken to indicate the stand of the Republicans throughout the state in regard to their choice for the presidential nomination.

Fast Run To Save Baby's Life.
Lexington, Ky., April 22.—The baby son of William F. Simms, one of the wealthiest citizens of Woodford county, whose home is at the famous Woodburn farm, was brought to St. Joseph hospital here this evening on a special trolley car from Paris, the car being run at full speed from Paris to the door of the hospital, as an immediate surgical operation was necessary to save the child's life.

The baby was accompanied by the parents, nurse and two Paris physicians, and in an hour after its arrival the operation was performed and it is believed to have been successful. The operation was for mastoids, a bony growth being removed from pressing on the brain near the ear. The child is about two years old.

SIXTEEN YEAR-OLD-GIRL GOES TO GOOD SHEPHERD

Grace Emery, the 16-year-old daughter of J. A. Emery, will be taken to the Home of the Good Shepherd at Louisville by request of the father. Chief of Police James Collins arranged for the girl to be admitted. Her father states that she ran away from home in the county and rented rooms in Mechanicsburg, where she began associations with women of questionable character. Sheriff John Ogilvie will take her to Louisville with women prisoners sentenced during the April term of McCracken circuit court.

It positively cured me of Rheumatism after others had failed."

Lest We Forget.

To go back no further than 1901, for example, we shall find that there were blizzards and snows far into April, and that overcasts were necessary right up to the end of June. There was one day late in April when the thermometer suddenly ran up past 80 degrees and as suddenly dropped 30 degrees. In 1892 the spring was late and cold and it rained all summer. In 1902 the thermometer hardly ever got above 70 even during the summer months—Chicago Chronicle.

GOOD JUDGEMENT
Is the essential characteristic of men and women. Invaluable to good business men and necessary to housewives. A woman shows good judgment when she buys White's Cream Vermifuge for her baby. The best worm medicine ever offered to mothers. Many indeed are the sensible mothers who write expressing their gratitude for the good health of their children, which they owe to the use of White's Cream Vermifuge.

Farmer Wagg—Yes; but, do you know, I thought it never would be.

TERRIBLE COBRA.

Hindu Snake Charmer Uses This Terrible Reptile.

The Hindu snake charmers in the oriental department of the Pawnee Bill show, which appears here on April 26, invariably use the cobra-dicapello or hooded snakes, in their performances. It is difficult to understand how the harsh, discordant notes of their music can produce any effect on the deadly reptiles, and yet that it does is unquestionable. Their fangs are never removed. The charmer will take snakes he never saw before in his life, provided they are cobras, and subdue them without difficulty.

The snakes are carried around in wicker baskets, the tops of which are securely fastened when moving from place to place, and when exhibiting are not released until the music has gone on for sufficient time to attract their attention. The charmer knows when it is safe to handle them. When the proper moment has arrived, he seizes them fearlessly and handles them as carelessly as if they were inanimate objects, being careful, however, to replace them in the baskets when the danger point is reached.

A drunken Hindu stumbled over one of the baskets, displacing the lid, on the day the score of charmers sailed from Calcutta for the Pawnee Bill show. Quick as a flash a reptile buried its fangs in the unfortunate man's leg and in three hours he was dead.

TWICE-TOLD TESTIMONY.

Paducah People Are Doing All They Can for Fellow Sufferers.

Paducah testimony has been published to prove the merit of Doan's Kidney Pills to others in Paducah who suffer from bad backs and kidney ills. Let any sufferer doubt that the cures made by Doan's Kidney Pills are thorough and lasting, we produce confirmed proof—statements from Paducah people saying that the cures they told of years ago were permanent. Here's a Paducah case:

J. W. Wootan, retired, of 1403 Burnett street, Paducah, Ky., says: "About seven years ago I gave a statement for publication telling of the great merits of Doan's Kidney Pills and what they had done for me after other remedies had failed to even help me. I was at that time a sufferer from backache and kidney trouble of years standing. My rest at night was greatly broken and my health was greatly run down. I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills and procured them at DuBois & Co.'s drug store. I took them as directed and was greatly benefited. This was seven years ago and at this time, Feb. 18, 1907, I think even more highly of this remedy than I did then as it has stood the test. I most heartily endorse Doan's Kidney Pills."

A Bold Step.

To overcome the well-grounded and reasonable objections of the more intelligent to the use of secret, medicinal compounds, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., some time ago, decided to make a bold departure from the usual course pursued by the makers of out-of-the-way medicines for domestic use, and so has published broad-ast and openly to the whole world, a full and complete list of all the ingredients entering into the composition of his widely celebrated medicines. Thus he has taken his numerous patrons and patients into his full confidence. Thus too he has removed his medicines from among secret nostrums of doubtful merits, and made them remedies of known composition.

By this bold step Dr. Pierce has shown that his formulas are of such excellence that he is not afraid to subject them to the closest scrutiny.

Not only does the wrapper of every bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous medicine for weak stomach, torpid liver or biliousness and all catarrhal diseases wherever located, have printed upon it, in plain English, a full and complete list of all the ingredients composing it, but a small book has been compiled from numerous standard medical works, of all the different schools of practice, containing very numerous extracts from the writings of leading practitioners of medicine, endorsing in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's medicines. One of these little books will be mailed free to any one sending address on postal card or by letter, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and requesting the same. From this little book it will be learned that Dr. Pierce's medicines contain no alcohol, narcotics, mineral agents or other poisonous or injurious agents and that they are made from active, medicinal roots of great value; also that some of the most valuable ingredients contained in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for women, nervous, over-worked, "run-down," nervous and debilitated women, were employed, four years ago, by the Indians for similar ailments affecting their squaws. In fact, one of the most valuable medicinal plants entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was known to the Indians as "Saw-Wood." Our knowledge of the uses of not a few of our most valuable native medicinal plants was gained from the Indians. As made up by improved and exact processes, the "Favorite Prescription" is a most efficient remedy for regulating all the women's functions, correcting displacements, as prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion, overcoming painful periods, toning up the nerves and bringing about a perfect state of health. Sold by all dealers in medicines.

WHY

Have a torpid liver when Herbine, the only liver regulator, will help you? There is no reason why you should suffer from Dyspepsia, Constipation, Chills and Fever or any liver complaints when Herbine will cure you. F. C. Watts, Westville, Fla., writes: "I was sick for a month with chills and fever, and after taking two bottles of Herbine, am well and healthy." Sold by all druggists.

Even the dignified man would rather bend a little than go broke.

Just a Few Uses as a Medicine

Very highly recommended for chronic dyspepsia and indigestion, also habitual constipation. For children it will be found useful in colds, hoarseness, and for weak, sickly children it is par excellence as a tonic and flesh builder, toning up the stomach and correcting indigestion and a disposition toward constipation. We can recommend this oil to be absolutely the purest oil on the market. We have it in 35c, 60c and $1 bottles. Give it a trial and be convinced of its value.

We also have a complete new stock of drugs, chemicals, patent medicines and toilet articles. A full line of Palmer's and Hazel's perfumes and toilet preparations. Prescriptions filled by registered pharmacists only. Free telephone. Delivery to any part of the city.

CHAPTER XV.

DUNCOMBE leaned his gun up against a gate. A few yards away his host was talking to the servants who had brought down luncheon. The rest of the party were only just in sight a field or two off.

"Have a glass of sherry before lunch, George?" his host asked, strolling toward him.

"Nothing to drink, thanks. I'd like a cigarette if you have one."

Lord Runtun produced his case, and a servant brought them matches. They both leaned over the gate and watched the scattered little party slowly coming toward them.

"Who is your friend, Fielding?" Duncome asked a little bluntly.

"Fellow from New York," Lord Runtun answered. "He's been very decent to my brother out there, and Archibald wrote and asked me to do all we could for them. The girl is very handsome. You'll see her at dinner tonight."

"Here for long?"

"No, unfortunately," Lord Runtun answered. "I had very hard work to get them to come at all. Cicely has written them three or four times, I think, but they've always had engagements. They're only staying till Monday, I think. Very quiet, inoffensive sort of chap, Fielding, but the girl's a ripper. Hello! Here they are. I'll introduce you."

A groom had thrown open the gate of the field across which they were looking, and Lady Runtun from the box seat of a small mail phaeton waved her whip. She drove straight across the furrows toward them a little recklessly, the groom running behind. By her side was a girl with coils of deep brown hair and a thick black veil worn after the fashion of the traveling American.

"Just in time, aren't we?" Lady Runtun remarked as she brought the horses to a standstill. "Help me down, Jack, and look after Miss Fielding, Sir George. By the bye, have you two met yet?"

Duncome bowed—he was bareheaded—and held out his hands.

"I saw Miss Fielding for a moment last night," he said, "or, rather, I didn't see her. We were introduced, however. What do you think of our malignant English weather, Miss Fielding?" he asked.

She raised her veil and looked at him deliberately, and yet it was with difficulty that he refrained from a start. The likeness to the photograph, which even at that moment was in his pocket, was wonderful. She looked a little older perhaps. There were shadows in her face of which there were no traces in the picture. And yet the likeness was wonderful.

"Today at least is charming," she said. "But, then, I am quite used to your climate, you know. I have lived in Europe almost as much as in America."

She certainly had no trace of any accent. She spoke a little more slowly perhaps than most young Englishwomen, but there was nothing whatever in her words or in her pronunciation of them to suggest a transatlantic origin. She stood by his side, looking about her with an air of interest, and Duncome began to wonder whether, after all, she was not more beautiful than the photograph which he had treasured so jealously. He became conscious of a desire to keep her by his side.

"Is your father shooting, Miss Fielding?"

She laughed softly.

"You don't know my father, Sir George," she answered. "He hates exercise, detests being out of doors, and his idea of paradise when he is away from business is to be in a large hotel where every one speaks English, where there are tapes and special editions and an American bar."

Duncome laughed.

"Then I am afraid Mr. Fielding will find it rather hard to amuse himself down here," he remarked.

"Well, he's discovered the telephone," she said. "He's spending the morning ringing up people all over the country. He was talking to his bankers when we came out. Oh, here come the rest of them. How tired they look, poor things—especially the baron! Nature never meant him to tramp over plowed fields, I am sure. Baron, I was just saying how warm you look."

The baron took off his cap, gave up his gun to a keeper and turned a glowing face toward them.

"My dear young lady," he declared, "I am wafra. I admit it, but it is good for me—very good, indeed. I tried to make your father walk with us. He will be sure to suffer some day if he takes no exercise."

"Oh, father's never ill," the girl answered. "But, then, he eats nothing. Sir George, I hope you're going to devote yourself to me at luncheon. I'm terribly hungry."

"So we all are," Lady Runtun declared. "Come along, every one."

Luncheon was served in a large open barn pleasantly fragrant of dried hay and with a delightful view of the sea far away in the distance. Miss Fielding chattered to every one, was amusing and amused. The baron gave her as much of his attention as he was ever disposed to bestow upon any one at meal times, and Duncome almost forgot that he had breakfasted at 8 o'clock.

"Charming young person, that!" said Lady Runtun's neighbor to her. "One of our future duchesses, I suppose?"

Lady Runtun smiled.

"Lots of money, Teddy," she answered. "What a pity you haven't a title."

The young man—he was in the foreign office—sighed and shook his head.

"Such things are not for me," he declared, sententiously. "My affections are engaged."

"That isn't the least reason why you shouldn't marry money," her ladyship declared, lighting a cigarette. "Go and talk to her!"

"Can't spoil sport!" he answered, shaking his head. "By Jove! Duncome is making the running, though, isn't he?"

Her ladyship raised her glasses. Duncome and Miss Fielding had strolled outside the barn. He was showing her his house, a very picturesque old place it looked, down in the valley.

"It's nothing but a farmhouse, of course," he said. "No pretensions at architecture or anything of that sort, of course, but it's rather a comfortable old place."

"I think it is perfectly charming," the girl said. "Do you live there all alone? You have sisters, perhaps?"

He shook his head.

"No such luck," he answered. "Mine is entirely a bachelor establishment. A great part of the time I am alone. Just now I have a pal staying with me—awfully decent chap, from Devonshire."

She was certainly silent for a moment. He fancied, too, that there was a change in her face.

"From Devonshire?" she repeated, with a carelessness which, if it was not natural, was exceedingly well assumed. "I believe I knew some people once who came from there. What is your friend's name, Sir George?"

He turned slowly toward her.

"Andrew Pelham," he said quietly. "He comes from a place called Raynesworth."

"He is staying here now—with you?"

"Yes," he answered gravely. "It was not his fancy this time; of that he felt sure. Her face for the moment had been the color of chalk; a little exclamation had been strangled upon her lips. She shot a quick glance at him. He met it steadily."

"You know the name?" he asked. She shook her head.

"The name, yes," she answered, "but not the person. A very old friend of mine was called Andrew Pelham, but he was an American, and he has never been in England. It startled me, though, to hear the exact name again from you."

She was herself again. Her explanation was carelessly given. It sounded even convincing, but Duncome himself was not convinced. He knew that she wanted him to be. He felt her eyes seeking his, studying his face. Perhaps she was only anxious that he should not misunderstand.

"George, are you ready?" his host called out. "We're going to take Smith's pastures."

"Quite!" Duncome answered. "Until this evening, Miss Fielding."

"You are dining at Runtun Place?" she asked quietly.

"Yes," he answered. "Will you tell me all about your Andrew Pelham?"

She raised her eyes to his and smiled.

"Do you think that you would be interested?" she asked.

"You know that I should," he answered quietly.

For a time he shot badly; then he felt that his host's eye was upon him and pulled himself together. But he was never at his best. He felt that the whole world of his sensations had been suddenly disturbed. It was impossible that there could be any connection between this girl and the photograph which had first fired him with the impulse to undertake that most extraordinary and quixotic mission. Yet the fact remained that the girl herself had had very much the same effect upon him as his first sight of the photograph. It was a coincidence, of course. Miss Fielding was charming. There was no reason why he should not in-"The name, yes," she answered, "but not the person."

He was losing his nerves. It was not possible, he told himself steadfastly. And yet—

Some of the women were following them in a leisurely sort of way behind. Miss Fielding was there walking a little apart. She carried her hat in her hand. The wind, which was blowing the skirts of her white cloth dress about her, was making havoc in her glorious hair. She walked with her head thrown back, with all the effortless grace of youth—a light heart, an easy conscience. He deliberately left his place and walked back to meet her. She waved her hand gayly. There was color in her cheeks now, and her eyes laughed into his. The shadows were gone. He felt that this was madness, and yet he said what he had come back to say.

"I thought that you might be interested to know, Miss Fielding, that you will meet the gentleman—with the same name as your friend—this evening. Lord Runtun has been good enough to ask him to come up and dine."

She nodded gayly.

"What a crowd of sentimental memories his coming will evoke," she declared. "Be nice to me, won't you, and help me dispel them?"

"Perhaps," he said, smiling with a great relief, "I might prefer to try and construct a few on my own account."

"Go and do your duty," she commanded, laughing.

Duncome hastened to his place. His eyes were bright. He felt that he was walking upon air.

"What a double distilled ass I nearly made of myself!" he muttered.

Had Them Guessing.

The new ambassador of the United States Mr. Henry White, has the gift of tongues which is not generally the case with his countrymen.

Some time ago he was at Venice with his wife and daughter. Each took a cup of tea at a garden. Not far from them at another table were seated two Americans who did not know the diplomat.

"I'll bet," said one—the Yankees always bet, "that he is an American; he looks out for the ladies."

"No," said the other, "he is English. He has already drunk three cups of tea. An American would be content with only one."

At that moment a waiter appeared. The ambassador addressed him in unimpeachable Italian.

"Bah!" cried the Americans in the same breath. "He's a Roman!"

TAFT AND HUGHES

TICKET THAT IS MOST POPULAR WITH ADMINISTRATION.

Politicians Say It Is Strongest Combination That Could Be Named.

Washington, April 22.—Taft and Hughes. That is the ticket which seems to appeal to the majority of the administration followers, it is claimed, and they point out the fact that the preliminary campaign practically is concentrated in two states, Ohio and New York.

In each state the president has been attacked personally, and in each state he has the right to ask for personal vindication, through the endorsement of a candidate in sympathy with his point of view in governmental matters. The idea of coupling the secretary of war with the governor of New York has proved a popular one. Experienced politicians say it would be about as strong a combination as could be secured. These two men would bring force to the ticket, and do it, too, in a state more or less uncertain, according to ordinary political standards.

It should not be understood, of course, that President Roosevelt is behind the ticket, but the names of Taft and Hughes are grouped together so often by people who are in the confidence of the president as to give the impression that this ticket would meet with his approval to an extraordinary degree.

His Dear Old Mother.

"My dear old mother, who is now eighty three years old, thrives on Electric Bitters," writes W. B. Brunson, of Dublin, Ga. "She has taken them for about two years and enjoys an excellent appetite, feels strong and sleeps well." That's the way Electric Bitters affect the aged, and the same happy results follow in all cases of female weakness and general debility. Weak, puny children too, are greatly strengthened by them. Guaranteed also for stomach, liver and kidney troubles, by all druggists. 50c.

HYPNOTISM GIVES JOY TO VICTIM OF DENTIST.

Philadelphia, April 22.—The pulling of teeth by "suggestive anaesthesia" was demonstrated this afternoon in the dental department of the Medico-Chirurgical hospital before a large attendance of dental students, dentists and surgeons.

The patient was placed in a hypnotic state by William E. Hoffman, a student in the junior class of the dental college. The operation of extracting the tooth was performed by Dr. William McKinley, in charge of the extracting department of the college. At first it looked as if the patient, J. F. Cummertford, who is also in the junior class of the college, was not going to succumb to the influence of Hoffman, but after four attempts Cummertford became a perfect subject.

At the instance of the hypnotist, Cummertford walked to the dentist's chair, seated himself and went to sleep. Dr. McKinley, who had previously prepared the forceps, extracted the tooth and then Hoffman said: "Wake up, it is all over."

Cummertford, as if struck from the rear, jumped out of the chair, his face wreathed in smiles. The tooth which was extracted, was a particularly bad case to operate upon.

HOLDS KISS IS NO DEBT PAYER.

Omaha Court Rules Woman Must Return $100 She Borrowed.

Omaha, April 22.—Nicholas Pries was awarded a judgment for $110 today in the district court for money loaned to Mrs. Elizabeth Bolz, who claimed the debt had been satisfied by a kiss which she had planted on the plaintiff's face at his request.

The loan was made several years ago, and the defendant explained that when she inquired as to the time she would be expected to repay the money, she was told not to mind about that.

"Just give me a kiss, and we will call it square," Nicholas is reported to have said to the woman, who is a handsome widow of some 50 years of age. The court's suggestion that the kiss should be returned was not accepted by the defendant, who appeared much chagrined.

Both the Culley and John Holland baseball teams, representing the best talent in Paducah, met defeat yesterday, the former at the hands of the Washingtons from St. Louis, and the latter by the Metropolis Blues at Metropolis. The Culley-Washington game was played at Wallace park here.

Umpire Bean apparently did not have his eye on the ball, making several bad decisions, but they favored the home team and little kicking was done. His umpiring was the only real feature of the game, except Pitcher Arnold's feat of letting the Washingtons down without a hit.

Whole Atlantic Coast is in Danger On Account Siesmic Disturbances

New York, April 22.—A remarkable series of earthquake tremors that has girdled the globe in the past few days has not yet entirely abated. Shocks were reported today at Lisbon, Constantinople, Mexico City and Chicopee, Mass. None of these disturbances did any damage or caused any loss of life or property so far as known.

Scientists, whose attention has been directed to the subject by the rapid succession of earthquakes, explain that the earth is passing through a period of unusual instability. Whether further indigestion in the bowels of the earth threaten danger to the more thickly populated portions of the world is a subject on which the scientists differ widely.

One set of scientists believe a universal disaster is imminent, while another group fears no such calamity, although agreeing other slight seismic disturbances are possible.

Dr. John M. Clark, state geologist of New York, says the entire Atlantic coast is by no means safe, although he admits the shocks generally follow along the newer mountain ranges of the Pacific.

Records kept here show that since December 3 there have been twenty-six earthquakes. Added to these disasters in the same period, several hurricanes have been reported. A typhoon on Good Friday swept over the Caroline Islands, killing 230 of the 800 inhabitants of the Uluthi group. The Gulf of Mexico was recently turned into a boiling pot during the Mexican earthquake and the steamer La Providence, which arrived yesterday from Europe encountered a weird electrical hurricane, attributed to seismic disturbances.

Scientists show that there are two great earthquake zones about the earth, in which a great per cent. of the shocks occur. One of these belts swings roughly east and west through Mediterranean region, Asia Minor, the Caucasus, Himalayas, East Indies, Central America and West Indies. It catches 53 per cent. of the quakes. The other belt circles the Pacific, along the Andes, up the west coast of North America across to Asia, down to the Japanese and Philippine Islands, extending to New Zealand.

Forty-one per cent. of the shocks occurred in this section. The thickly populated districts of the world, embracing a surface 20 times that of the two earthquake zones, receives only 6 per cent. of the shocks.

$50,000,000

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER WILL GIVE TO CHINA.

Carter Helm Jones, of Louisville, Announces Princely Gift to Foreign Missions.

Louisville, Ky., April 22.—Rev. Dr. Carter Helme Jones, pastor of the Broadway Baptist church, a close friend of John D. Rockefeller, announced during a mission sermon today that plans for a princely gift by the millionaire are practically complete.

"I can say to you, not for publication," said Dr. Jones, "that the greatest friend of the Baptist church has announced complete arrangements for a gift of $50,000,000 for the education of Chinese."

When questioned after the sermon Rev. Jones refused to give details.

Just Two Daughters.

Baillie Craig, the magisterial authority of a small town in Scotland, had six stout sons, with whom he loved to parade the market place, says Dr. Kerr in his "Memoirs." They furnished him the basis of a mathematical joke.

"A fine family you have," strangers would often say "Is this the whole of it?"

"No, indeed," the Baillie would reply. "I have two sisters at home for each and every one of them."

"What!" the visitor would exclaim, rapidly counting the sons. "Twelve daughters!"

"No, indeed! Just two!"

ACCOUNTS SHORT

DISCOVERY IN CONNECTION WITH CASE OF P. H. STRAWHUN

Missing Officer of Mine Workers Took Between $2,000 and $3,000.

Murphysboro, April 22.—On our return to this city this evening we made inquiry at the bank as to the state of P. H. Strawhun's accounts and find that he drew $1,500 out of the City National bank of Murphysboro, on Friday, April 19, just before leaving for Cairo, and shortly after he had deposited checks amounting to $350. It was money belonging to the United Mine Workers' union of which he was an officer. We had audited his books before going to Cairo to inquire into his disappearance and found them all right, but had not inquired at the bank to learn if the money called for by the books was on deposit there. We have reason to believe that he is from $2,000 to $3,000 short in his accounts with the Miners' union and that he has run away.

The foregoing somewhat startling message was received last night by The Bulletin from Sheriff Patchett, of Murphysboro.

Other interesting facts were discovered. His grip was found in his room at the Planters hotel, but there was little or nothing of value in it, nor was there anything of value in the pockets of the clothing found on the trestle, the watch and money being gone.

While the developments of last night at the Murphysboro bank clearly establish a crime and seem to justify the conclusion that he left that city with the intention to escape punishment, there is still no certainty as to what became of the man. The first conclusion will now be that he ran away and left his clothing where it was found to create the impression that he had drowned himself or had been foully dealt with.

KELLOCK IS CALM.

Has Nothing to Say and Is Model Prisoner.

Nine prisoners were taken to Edgelyville today at noon by Sheriff John Ogilvie and his deputies. Charles Kellock, the safe blower, was the coolest in the lot. He never once tried to cause trouble and Jailer Eaker states he was a model prisoner in every respect. Kellock read most of the time in jail, having few words for other prisoners. Those left behind are Cleo Anderson, who got 2 years and is waiting for the court of appeals to act on a motion for a new trial in a manslaughter case; Bob Greer, colored, who has three months yet to serve for petit larceny, and Rosa West, colored, who got 3 years for robbery.

Did He Kiss Her?

A few nights ago a Denver university boy took his best girl, a young woman who lives out on the East Side, to a theater. During the evening she complained of not feeling well and they left before the show was over. He took her home, and when they said good night the girl was pretty sick. Next day it turned out that she had diphtheria. Then the young man began to wonder if he was booked for a siege with the disease, too. He called on a physician he knew to ask about it.

The physician heard the young man's tale. "Well," said he at the conclusion of it, "I think your chances to catch the disease depend on how you said good night to the young lady." The young man was quiet a moment. Then he said: "Doctor, I'm much obliged. If that's the case I am not in danger." The young man went out. A minute later he stuck his head in the door. "Say, Doc," he said, "diphtheria don't go very hard with strong, healthy young men, does it?"—Denver Post.

It is a whole lot harder to live for a faith than it is to die for one.
